

First authentication a user is added to the database

On completion of a game the relevant details including the player ID are stored in the database

